Farm and Stock News

The hustling real estate firm of Thompson & Reynolds, of the Waynesburg section sold to Jim Yuntz, of Letcher county the 11-acre tract of land known as the Carn Oaks place for $160. This place is located on the Crab Orchard fork of Buck Creek.

Jones Anderson and Burch Hester, of the East End, have engaged to Center Bros., of Garrard, for delivery the last ten days in September, two bunches of hogs, which they sold at $8.50 a hundred. Mr. Hester has 33 on feed and Mr. Anderson 10. They figure to have the porkers averaging 150 pounds when delivered.

V. A. Lear had delivered to him at Lancaster for shipment last week a bunch of hogs from the Amon farm on the Lexington road, to the north of Lancaster. The drove was a record-breaker, consisting of 64 head that tipped the beam at an average of 10 pounds. The porkers were the property of Dr. J. A. Aman of Lancaster, and N. T. Crow, who is living on the Amon farm. The hogs were sold at 8.25 per hundred, or for a total of $1,184.

Probably the largest single cattle deal ever consummated in Bourbon county, was closed Friday when Thos. Henry Clay, Sr., and Thos. Henry Clay, Jr., sold their fat cattle comprising 395 head, to Mr. Jonas Weil, at a private price. It is said that between $43,000 and $45,000 is involved in the deal. The Clay cattle are in excellent condition for export, averaging around 1,400 pounds each. The delivery of the stock will be made between July 15 and August 15. Henry Caywood of Bourbon, bought 25 head of fat cattle, averaging from 1,200 to 1,400 pounds, from Robert Meter, of near Paris, at 8 1-2 and 9 cents per pound.

One of the choicest bunches of cattle sold recently was the 35 head by George K. Pepper, of near Paris, to Henry Caywood, for $9.75 a hundred pounds. These cattle will average 1,500 pounds and are in prime condition. All of Mr. Caywood's purchases were made for Swift & Co., the big packers.

V. A. Lear of Lancaster, is one of the most extensive shippers of live stock in this entire section, having exported during the past week 5 carloads of hogs to Hubbard, Haus, and Ragsdale, at Cincinnati, the porkers averaging 200 pounds and costing on an average of $8.50 per hundred. Mr. Lear also shipped out this week, a load of hogs on Tuesday, two loads of swine Wednesday, 90 head to the car, the animals averaging 210 pounds, and costing an average of 8 1-4 cents per pound, a car load on Thursday, another car load on Friday, and still another consignment for Saturday. All these porkers were shipped to the same Cincinnati firm. Mr. Lear is also dealing extensively in lambs, a representative consignment having been sent out on Tuesday, a double decker of lambs, 250 head, that averaged 80 pounds and cost $8.25 per hundred, the mutton producers going to Jersey City.

Some of Mr. Lear's representative deals with Garrard farmers are as follows: From James I. Hamilton 94 head of hogs, averaging 200 pounds, at 8 1-2 cents per pound; from Robinson Bros., 74 head of swine averaging 235 pounds, at $8.25 a hundred; from Swope Bros., 80 lambs, averaging 75 pounds, at 8 cents per pound; from J. K. Sutton 43 young wool bearers, weight 78 pounds per animal, at 7 1-2 cents a pound; from J. B. Bourne 48 lambs, averaging 68 pounds at 8 cents a pound.

At the 12th semi-annual sale of imported Jersey cattle at Burr Oak Jersey Farm, on the W. R. Spann farm west of Shelbyville last week, 29 head including calves and heifers, were sold for $33,625, an average of $340. F. J. Bannister, of Kansas City, paid $1,275, the top price of the sale, for Golden Fern's Silver Thread, a 3-year-old cow by Golden Fern's Noble, dam Silver Fancy. The next best price was $1,000, which was paid by the Island Home Farm, of Knoxville, Tenn., for Golden Fern's Alabama, a 5-year-old cow by Golden Fern's Noble, dam Favorite's Queen. The highest price bull was Peerless Jolly Fern, by Golden Fern's Noble, dam Coronation Maid, which was sold to J. B. Jones, of Marion Junction, Ala., for $610.

FOUR YOUNG PEOPLE DROWN

Horrible Accident in River Near Frankfort Tuesday Night.

Frances Champ, daughter of Swift Champ, editor of the Bourbon News, Paris; Ann Embry, of Paris, and Carroll Dale and Eugene Buchignani, of Lexington, were drowned in the Kentucky River three miles above Frankfort, shortly before midnight Tuesday night, by the capsizing of a small yacht in which they were riding by the barge, Helen M., on which a dancing party was being held.

The young persons had arrived too late to join a barge party, which left Frankfort at 8 o'clock, and went up the river to meet it, with Ann Molloy and Bradley Bailey, of Lexington; Sam Reeves, Robert Hollingsworth and Cardwell Chinn, of Frankfort, on Hollingsworth's yacht.

They ran alongside and were trying to board the barge when the yacht capsized and all were thrown overboard. All were rescued, excepting the two girls and two boys, whose bodies were recovered Wednesday. Miss Embry was the daughter of Mrs. Annie Embry, of Paris.

The Junior Barge Club of young society people gave their weekly dance on the river Tuesday night. The big barge was crowded with merry makers when the accident happened, and few were aware of it until several young men plunged over the rail and those who were ready to help the girls aboard shouted for assistance.

The four who were drowned went under the barge and never reappeared. Hollingsworth said he heard one girl cry, "I'm gone." He started toward the voice, but found no one.

A half dozen young men dived to the rescue from the barge, and some of them had narrow escapes. Holton Keller, of Frankfort, was drawn under the little towboat pushing the barge and was stunned by a blow from a paddle. Bradley Bailey also was struck by a paddle, but managed to keep afloat until he was rescued. The others, who were rescued, were clinging to the capsized yacht.

Jay King in his launch arrived on the scene within a few minutes and searched for many yards around while the searchlight of the Helen M. played over the waters, but not one of the missing young people was seen. The barge remained at the spot for over an hour, and when it returned to Frankfort at one o'clock a party was left to watch for the bodies, hope of their rescue alive having been given up. All the victims of the accident are 19 to 22 years old and well known socially in Central Kentucky. Their bodies were recovered next morning and taken to their homes for burial.
